Minnewaukan

Dedication . . .

Did you ever think of the hundreds of other students who have attended Baraboo High School? Did you ever think of those others who used your locker and sat at your desk? Can you imagine that when we are gone these same activities will be carried on? Students come and go, but Baraboo High School with its traditions remains. For each class of men and women it gives to the future, there is another yearbook to record their memories.

Many things can be discovered about a high school by reading its annual. The pulsing, vibrating emotions of a school seep into the pages of the book making it a panorama of lives and loves. Long after we are gone, this book will remain as a memorial to the triumphs and achievements we have made.

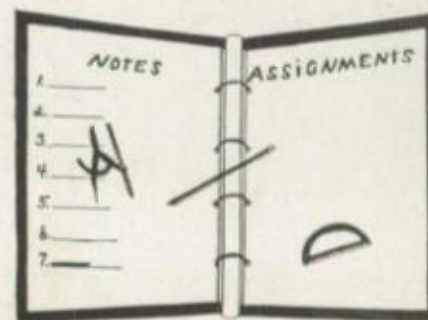

Keeping these thoughts in mind, the annual staff has tried to make this year's Minnewaukan a personal and lasting record. We have tried to show the student life of Baraboo High School clearly and accurately. This is a chronicle in words and pictures of the school year 1946-47.

Joan Luce and Jim Quandt were selected as Terry and Tommy, typical BHS students. They are pictured throughout the book as you, yourself, might be seen.

So, if you love your high school, if the memories of the days you spent here are your particular treasure, and if your heart will always beat faster when you hear the school song, then this book is for you. For, to the students of Baraboo High School, this 1947 Minnewaukan is dedicated.

Seniors ★ ★ ★ Class of 1947

"Best class in the school," they have been telling everybody for seven years now. Whether that boast has proven true during their high school years is unknown, but they have shown everyone that they are always ready for something new. They liked new things, new ideas and new experiences.

It is always sad to graduate and leave behind all the things that have meant so much during the high school years. Yes, there was work, study, and the dull monotony of one school day after another; but, when they are gone they won't remember those things. All they will think of is the fun they had, the dances, the prom, class plays, joking in the halls before classes and the games where they cheered and yelled until they were hoarse. Every Senior will have different memories of high school, but to each the years spent at BHS represent many new experiences.

The Class of '47 was a busy class, well represented in clubs, teams, and every activity they could wrangle themselves into. The members gave a good prom and put on class plays that will be remembered as some of the best ever given in this school. They worked hard to put on their own commencement program.

Soon it will be over, but right now the Seniors are looking back, thinking about all the exciting times they have had, looking ahead wondering what is to come, and they are cherishing these few moments while they are still the Senior Class of Baraboo High School.

Juniors ★ ★ ★ Class of 1948

The Junior Class was organized with the election of officers at the beginning of the school year, and with the selection of Mrs. Wolfe as the new advisor to work with Mr. Heinze. When Mr. Heinze resigned, Mr. Griffey was chosen to replace him.

The class play, "A Case of Springtime," gave those interested in dramatics a chance to show their ability. This hilarious comedy proved entertaining to the audience which filled the auditorium for the two evening and the matinee performances.

The Junior Prom always the main social event, had Peggy King and her all-girl orchestra providing music for the dancers. King Warren Trager and his Queen, Margaret Kane, were crowned in the romantic setting of "Apple Blossom Time."

Not all of the class activities were as tame as the above. The fellows held up the rough and tumble end by making a good showing on the football field, and by taking honors in basketball. The junior girls proved their athletic ability too, by winning the G.A.A. volleyball title.

As the Class of '48, the Juniors are looking forward to their Senior year in Baraboo High School.

Mr. Gilbert was selected as class advisor by the Sophomores at their first class meeting. Officers were also elected at that time.

With their Senior fellow students, the class of 1947, the group co-sponsored a successful Senior-Sophomore shuffle.

Organized activities of the Sophomore Class are held at a minimum, but this seemed to make the Sophomores more anxious to participate in various school extra-curricular activities. Their "greenness" soon wore off through association with the upper-classmen and some of the members were even able to excel in these functions.

The Sophomores are anxious to develop their abilities at Baraboo High School as Juniors and Seniors.

who died November 3, 1946*

The history of the Class of 1950 is a brief one, but none the less full of accomplishments on the part of its members. In the various activities of the school, the Freshman have been well represented and have shown a fine spirit. In both band and chorus, as well as the other musical activities, the members took their places. They also realized dramatic ambitions by organizing the Dramatics Club.

Even in their first year, the athletics came into prominence through playing on football, basketball and other athletic teams. The newspaper had Freshman in various editorial capacities.

The Class of '50 hopes that these interests and ambitious attitudes will help them in the rest of their high school career.

Playing their first gridiron game of the season, the Baraboo eleven trimmed the Adams-Friendship team to the tune of 32-6.

On the following Friday, however, Baraboo lost it's conference opener 19-0 to Monroe, at the local Athletic field.

Baraboo won their other non-conference game with Sparta by a fourth quarter rally ending in a 15-12 win for the Circus City eleven.

In the second conference game of the season Baraboo dropped a heartbreaker to Wisconsin Dells. Baraboo led 6-0 up to the last 3 minutes of play. In this short remaining time our line fell apart just long enough to let the Dells slip through to win by a score of 7-6.

Fumbles which were costly to the team all season proved exceptionally costly against Edgerton. The gridders fumbled seven times including once on Edgerton's goal line. Baraboo lost 25-0.

An aroused Baraboo team, scoring in the third and fourth quarters, won its only conference tilt when they defeated Reedsburg in the Homecoming game by a score of 13-7.

In the second game of the season by which Baraboo lost by a score of 7-6, Richland Center, in a late fourth quarter upset, scored to give the team its fourth conference loss.

At the annual Armistice Day game between Baraboo and Portage, our opponents, on second and third quarter drives, defeated Baraboo 13-7.

Baraboo finished in ninth place in its fifth year of Southern Ten conference play.

Baraboo finished the 1946-47 basketball season tied for fourth place in the Southern Ten Conference. The Conference record was 7 wins and 7 losses. In the tournament at Columbus, the Circus City cagers placed fourth by winning 1 and losing 2.

In the election held at the end of the season, Jack Meyers and Dick Raabe were elected co-captains. Both were guards and had exceptional ball handling ability. Jack usually sank several long two-handed shots per game. Dick's specialty was dribbling around his opponent for a lay-up shot. Sophomore Bob Luce was the starting center and handled rebounds and pivot shots. The usual starting forwards were Rick Meyer, junior, and Duane Dickie, sophomore. Rick liked the one-handed push shot, and Duane, a defensive player, used a push shot on offense.

Although the above cagers were usually, though not always the starting five, the playing was fairly well divided among the eleven letter winners. Jack Troyer, J. Haight, R. Bartholomew, K. Bell, John Troyer and Chuck Marking were the additional lettermen. Other squad members included G. Weston and G. Krugman.

Baraboo had a rather disappointing track season last year. The boys started training late and as a whole, not enough earnest effort was put forth to make a winning team. The first meets were the annual Interclass Meets. Next came Baraboo's large Invitational Meet, in which some very stiff competition was met. Baraboo won a dual contest with Lodi, and placed second in a Triangular Meet in which Reedsburg took first place and Portage third. The team was ninth in the Southern Ten Meets. At the Wisconsin Rapids Sectional, the relay team, Lemoine in the weights, Heinecamp in the broad jump, and Schluter and Powers in the pole vault, qualified for state. Baraboo failed, however, to place in the State Meet. Jim Hinecamp and Roger Schluter were co-captains.

The Boxing season began the first part of February under the direction of Mr. Griffey and Mr. Joe Czys. The boys were in very good shape by the time of the semi-finals in March and every boy was in for a good fight.

Three pairs of brothers, Bells, Cummings and Waddells were separated in the Thirteenth Annual Semi-Final Meet. A. Utzinger and B. Cummings were victorious over C. Bell and G. Waddell respectively. D. Lee out-boxed K. Cummings to break up the other combination. Their brothers came through though. B. Cummings defeated G. Waddell; K. Bell defeated E. Meyers, and A. Waddell won over T. Apostle.

Mr. Art Mansfield refereed the Semi-Finals Tournament and the Finals.

Eight teams participated in the Conference Meet.

Chuck Marking won the school trophy cup with a score of 168 for the 36 holes.

Lettermen returning to this year's team are: Marking, Peterson, Bartholomew and R. Meyer. In addition, many new golfers promise to strengthen the squad.

Last year the Tennis team completed a very successful year, under the direction of Mr. Scott, their coach.

During the regular season they defeated Reedsburg three times and Portage once. In the District Tournament held at Madison, the doubles team captured the Southern Ten doubles titles. In spite of the fact that the first singles man broke his racket, the team finished the meet with a third place rating. At the State Tournament held at Manitowoc the singles were defeated by their first opponents, but the doubles team won twice before being defeated. The squad gained experience in tournament play which should help them this year. The following were letter winners last year: J. Haight and R. Knerr, doubles team; Bill Martin, first singles man; T. Leahy, second singles, and J. Skala, third singles.

Junior High Football

This year was a completely victorious one for the Junior High Football Team. The squad, coached by Mr. Bevins, showed excellent team work, which undoubtedly helped make this an undefeated season.

The football team played Portage twice. The first game was played here in Baraboo, and the score was 14 to 0 in our favor. The second game was played in Portage with the final outcome again in our favor, 28 to 0. Victory was again ours at the third and final game played in Reedsburg, 6 to 0.

It is hoped that the training these boys received in their freshman year will eventually show up in the future on the Varsity Squad.

Volleyball

Starting from scratch, Mr. Garner Smith reorganized an entirely new volleyball team. Though the team lacked experience they possessed enough aggressive spirit to produce a fine team. Winning the Northern half of the conference at Richland Center they went on to beat Wisconsin High, winner of the Southern half and be proclaimed Southern Ten champions. Baraboo was unable to compete in the state meet because of our Prom being held the evening of the eliminations. Having gained a year's experience Baraboo should be able to look forward to a good season next year.

The fifty members of the A Cappella Choir met for full rehearsals on Mondays and Wednesdays during the sixth hour this year. The boys held sectional practice on Tuesdays and the girls on Thursdays.

The Triple Trio, made up of nine girls, practiced on Friday of each week. They presented many programs outside of the school and also sang at the Music Festival in the spring.

The first performance of A Cappella this year was a Thanksgiving program presented in the auditorium. Shortly after this, on December fifteenth, it presented its annual Christmas Concert to the public. This same program was repeated for the study body. Additional appearances of the choir were made during Brotherhood Week and at the Music Festival.

For the first time this year, students received credits for being in singing organizations. Membership, both A Cappella Choir and a Glee Club was rewarded with one-half credit for the year.

Boys' Glee Club

During the first half of the school year the Boy's Glee Club devoted itself to singing only in the regular Tuesday-Thursday practice home room period. The fifty-seven members worked under Miss Haslanger.

The first public appearance of the group was at the Farm Institute held during March in the high school auditorium. They sang "Hark the Vesper Hymn Is Stealing," and "Winter Song."

Those boys who were to sing solos or be in ensembles at the annual Music Festival, made recordings of their voices in February. The entire Glee Club sang at the May Music Festival.

Mary Schwartz was the pianist for the year.

Girls' Glee Club

After weeks of practice, the seventy-two members of the Girls' Glee Club made their first public appearance at the annual Christmas Concert. They presented three songs, "Jesus in the Manger," "The Carol of the Birds" and "Angels We Have Heard on High."

In the spring they gave a commendable performance at the annual Music Festival. For these events the girls practiced after school every Tuesday and Thursday.

Early in February the members, by means of recordings, were able to hear their own voices. This proved a profitable experience for those who sang solos or were in ensembles at the Music Festival.

Mary Schwartz and Karla Ochsner accompanied the groups, which were under the direction of Miss Haslanger.

Minnewaukan

The annual staff started out its year with a bang-up business campaign which was conducted for a full week. Each day skits or novelties were given in order to boost the sales.

The staff raised more money for the annual fund by sponsoring several after-game dances held in the high school gym following football games.

Many new ideas were introduced in the '47 Minnewaukan. Among these were the division pages featuring Tommy and Terry. At the beginning of the year a search was conducted to find the two students who most nearly represented average high school teenagers. In a ceremony held during the Wisconsin Dells after-game dance, Jim Quandt and Joan Luce were crowned as Tommy and Terry. Another new idea was the contracting of only one photographer. This job was very capably taken over by Mr. Zarling. In addition, most of the pictures were taken indoors and featured a variety of arrangements and backgrounds. The annual initiated the taking and selling of snap-ographs of all the students in the city schools. These were to take the place of the class pictures for the freshman, sophomores and juniors.

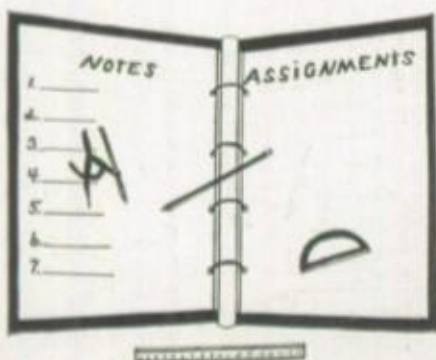

High Light

This year the High Light staff enlarged both its membership and the size of the paper.

Since finances played an important part in the paper production, the first undertaking of the staff was to stage a show at the Bara-Teen to raise some money. The show was set in the "High Light Saloon," and featured a can-can chorus, citified strangers, bar-maid, "Wild West Winnie" and "Pure Hearted Prunella."

They also collaborated with the Hi-Y in sponsoring the carnival. Side shows were their responsibility and they featured the kissing booth, fortune telling booth, weight guessing and boxing concessions.

OOBARAB was introduced this year. He was, crudely speaking, the symbol of the High Light. As a light bulb, his main function was to shed light on all the dark activities going on around school.

Latin Club

The Latin Club is composed of students who take Latin. The purpose of the club is to arouse an interest in Latin, and includes projects at the meetings which cannot be carried out during class time.

The club meets the first Monday of each month. During the first meeting new members were initiated. At the meeting before Christmas the students sang Christmas songs in Latin and had a spell-down of Latin vocabulary words. During the year, a banquet was held and also a valentine party for which the members made Latin Valentines. In the spring, the group enjoyed a picnic. Each meeting, whether primarily social or not, always has a Latin theme.

The members of Latin Club elected the following officers for the year: President, Patricia Morton; Vice President, Kay Amundson; Secretary, Nancy Brannan; Treasurer, Jeannine Halberg, and Student Council Representative, Betty Kane. Club advisors were Mrs. Hood for the first semester and Mr. Kelhoffer during the second semester.

French Club

The French Club was newly organized this year by Mrs. Marggi and the students in her French Class. The purpose of the club was to learn more about France—its customs, language and industries. The members corresponded with various people in France, and listened once a week to a program broadcast entirely in French by the University of Wisconsin.

At the meetings, which were held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, programs with alternate educational and social activities were presented. In October the club had a dinner meeting in the Ag room with the tables decorated in a Halloween theme.

Club members may be recognized by the pins they wear, which are a small replica of the Eiffel Tower.

The following officers were elected for the year: President, Bill Gallagher; Vice President, Jeannine Maxwell; Secretary, Marion Black; Treasurer, Marabeth Barfield; and Student Council Representative, Sharon Grabow. Mrs. Marggi is their advisor.

F. F. A.

F. F. A. is one of the busiest of high school organizations. Last October they sent two members of their group to the National Convention at Kansas City, Missouri. The junior and senior members took a four day educational tour of Chicago and the surrounding rural areas. All members participated in public speaking, each writing and learning his own speech. A number of the members took part in the Ag-Thalia plays. The kittenball and basketball teams had a very successful season. From their F.F.A. funds the boys bought an orchard sprayer, with which they sprayed more than 9,000 apple trees and 100 acres of noxious weeds. In December they sponsored one of their most successful annual banquets at which they were host to nearly 200 parents and guests.

There are 51 active members in F.F.A. this year. Eighteen hold the Green Hand Degree, the first degree of membership; 20 have received the Chapter Farmer Degree, the second degree; 3 have earned the State Farmer Degree, the third degree of membership; and 2 have earned the highest award, the American Farmer Degree.

Officers this year were: President, Andrew Washburn; Vice President, John Litscher; Secretary, Kenneth Bell; Treasurer, Gerald Belter; Reporter, Duane Washburn; Sergeant-at-arms, Arden Gaffney; Student Council Representative, Jim Pierce; and Advisor, Mr. Hienze.

The last semester of the school year Mr. Heinze left, leaving his position to be filled by Mr. Clayton.

HI-Y INITIATION

HI-Y SUPPER MEETING

In the fall Hi-Y held its traditional initiation which made the new members a little bruised and muddy. At the first meeting election of officers brought these results: President, Bob Marquardt; Vice President, Jack Troyer; Secretary, Jim Haight; Treasurer, Dick Jenks; Chaplain, Kenny Bell. A Schedule for the meetings, which featured speakers from the surrounding areas, movies and basketball games, was arranged by the officers and Mr. Scott, the faculty advisor.

One of the Hi-Y's first projects was buying a plaque to bear the names of the World War II dead that graduated from Baraboo High School. In the fall Hi-Y joined with Pep Club in sponsoring the Homecoming celebration. The club entered a float in the parade which won second prize.

Among the events of the year was the Tri-Hi-Y Convention which was held December 7 at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. Bob Marquardt, Jack Troyer, Jim Haight and Rich Meyer represented the club at the meeting.

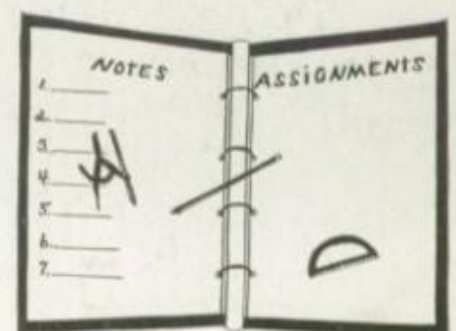

Again this year Hi-Y sponsored the High-Light. In connection with the paper staff, the second annual carnival was held January 17. It again proved to be a great success.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association began its business for this year shortly after school started with the following officers presiding: President, Helen Roche; Vice President, Elaine Litscher, Secretary, Beatrice Burton; Treasurer, Mary Schwartz; Student Council Representative, Jeannine Halberg, and Advisor, Miss Forsythe.

In the latter part of September the members began playing volleyball. Under the supervision of Barbara Cronn, captain of that sport, the organization was divided into several teams. These teams played in the gym every Wednesday for the championship. The season was climaxed by a tournament between the classes from which the Juniors emerged victorious after beating the Seniors 57 to 30.

In October, November and December, G. A. A. bowling teams invaded the local alleys and, led by Captain Eleanor Rochester, proceeded to set an all time record for gutter balls.

Just before Christmas the annual G. A. A. party was held at the Community Center, which was gaily decorated for the occasion.

The girls' basketball season opened in January, headed by Captain Frances Bartholomew. A class tournament also ended this season with the Sophomores in the winners bracket.

With the arrival of Spring the fancies of G. A. A. girls were lightly directed, by Captain Evelyn Baumgarten, to thoughts of baseball.

Officers were also elected in the Spring. They will assume their duties next fall.

Election of officers was held in September. The officers were: President, Genevieve Stone; Vice-President, Elaine Litscher; Secretary, Millie Kuwitzky; Treasurer, Katherine Rau. Miss Dahl was chosen as the new advisor to assist Miss Crandall. Portia Bohn was elected student-council representative.

The traditional formal initiation was held at the public library. The following day, the informal initiation was held at school.

Pot-luck suppers were held twice a month. At each meeting a worthwhile program was given on something of current or dramatic interest. Sometimes plays were read or enacted.

Thalia again sponsored the play-writing contest with the Ag boys. The plays were directed by Miss Crandall, assisted by student directors.

Among the social events of the year were the Thalia-Hi-Y party, the Christmas supper party, the Mother and Daughter tea, and the formal banquet at the close of school.

Part of this year's funds will go toward purchasing equipment for the stage and dramatic productions.

Pep Club

At the beginning of the year the following officers were elected: Millie Kuwitzky, President; Betty Hauge, Secretary-Treasurer, and Genevieve Stone, Student Council Representative. Eleven new members were added to the roll.

Pep Club holds meetings before the important games at which members discuss all-school pep programs, and formulate new cheers to be introduced to the students. Club members together at all the games, and by starting the cheers, they get everyone in a football or basketball mood. Pep Club was also influential in the success of the Homecoming celebration, as it was co-sponsor of the event with the Hi-Y. The club had a flower campaign before the home game and entered a float which took first place in the parade.

At the beginning of each year, Pep Club held tryouts for cheerleaders. This year the following people were selected: Ardis Schafer, head cheerleader; Jewel Osborne; Frances Bartholomew; Audrey Ward; Marlene Smith; and Bill Martin. Miss Forsythe is the advisor for Pep Club.

Student Council

The Student Council was an organization which encouraged responsible citizenship and self-government. Throughout the year, the Council held panel discussions. At one of these, they tried to interest the student body in having a point system for extra-curricular activities which would limit the students from participating in so many activities at one time.

Student Council met the third Monday of every month. It was made up of one representative from each homeroom and one from each school organization. Some of the various activities carried on during the year included locker inspection, planning assembly programs, charity and Red Cross collections, the selling of annuals and working on a handbook for the Senior High.

Officers elected for the year were: President, Peggy Krumm; Vice President, Richard Meyer, and Secretary-Treasurer, Donna Waffensmith. The Council under the leadership of Mr. Smith, was divided into four committees each with a definite purpose and duty. Those committees were: Promotional Activities, Budget Committee, Locker Committee and Assembly Committee.

Barateen

Club Barateen, sponsored by the Lions Club, is open every Friday night and serves as a "hangout" for Baraboo High School students. The Club provides many good times for students from seventh through twelfth grades. Junior Barateen, for seventh and eighth grades, meets from seven to nine. Senior Barateen meets from nine to eleven-thirty.

The Club is headed by a committee consisting of ten seniors, eight juniors, five sophomores, and three freshmen. Each week several of the committee members are responsible for taking care of the necessary jobs at the Barateen, such as tending to the door, selling coke, and cleaning-up.

For the first time, pins have been ordered for the committee members. A brown "B" with Barateen printed down the back of the letter and a guard with '47 may be seen worn by the piloting group.

This year the Barateen offered the various other organizations of the school a chance to put on a program at the club for one-half of the money taken in. Several clubs took advantage of this opportunity and presented some very enjoyable programs.

Genevieve Stone is the president, Mary Schwartz is the secretary and treasurer, and Mr. Smith is the advisor.

Debate

Debate was offered this year for the first time since its discontinuance in 1942. It was under the direction of Mr. Jones.

Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Provide a System of Complete Medical Care Available to All Citizens at Public Expense. With this question in mind, the debators began the year's activities.

At the Whitewater District Debate Tournament held in Madison on February 1, Baraboo, won three debates and lost three, thus giving them third place in the tournament.

Members of the Affirmative team were: John Curry and Portia Bohn. The Negative team was composed of Corinne Rinkob and Jacky Hill. Helen Roche, Aleen Behrman, Ann Luce and Betty Richter were alternates.

Forensics

During the week of March 10 to 14, Forensic contests were held in Baraboo. The winners of these contests went to Portage to compete in the League Meet.

Mrs. Marggi was in charge of extemporaneous reading and declamations. Inez Morsch, Charlotte Gomon, Mary Martin, Bill Gallagher and Marilyn Leiser competed in the Extemporaneous Reading class. Inez Morsch won first and Charlotte Gomon won second in the city meet. Inez went on to Portage where she received an A and then to the District Contest at Fort Atkinson where her rating was C.

Rosemary Bradley from the Junior High, won the Baraboo Humorous Declamation contest. She also went to the League Contest where she received a B rating. Others in city competition were Mary Jean Bailey, Ethel McConnell and Shirley Hanley.

The serious declamatory elimination contest was won by Eleanor Rochester with "Mama and the Graduation Present." She received an A at League and went on to the District Meet where she received a C. Joy Dwars and Marjorie Troyer were also out for serious declamations.

Mr. Jones coached the students in oratory. John Langer, Everett Harding, Aleen Behrman and Bill Gallagher took part in the city elimination contest. Bill Gallagher won this meet and went on to League where he received a B.

Also out for oratory was Clairebell Prothero who wrote her own speech entitled "Peace for All Times." She won A at League and went to District where she received a B.

Baraboo did well in most fields this year and there were many students who, though they did not go on, received experience for next year.

Junior Class Play

Under the direction of Mrs. Marggi, the Juniors successfully presented "A Case of Springtime," as their class play this year.

The play concerned Bob Parker, played by Bill Clayton, who wanted to regain the favor of his girl Joan Abernaker (Betty Solum).

He gave a magic show at school to impress her. Joan Volunteered for his "sawing the woman in half," but when it went wrong, Mr. Abernaker, the principal of the school, played by Bill Gallagher, decided that Bob was a total loss and perhaps his daughter had better stay away from him. A group of P. T. A. women, Kay Nolte, Allegra Shale, and Dary DuBois, swarm down on the family to have Bob sent to jail. Gene Weston and Joy Dwars were Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Bob's sympathetic parents. Betty Parker, the sister who went with Eddie (George McArthur) was played by June Radel. Dickie Parker, the kid brother, and his adoring girl friend, Gwen Anderson, were played by LeRoy Parks and Mary Schwartz. Sharon Grabow was the Parkers' maid, Don Moedinger the plain clothes man, and Pat Herfort was Miss Bright, the lady from the zoo.

The play had many humorous parts including one in which Mr. Abernaker's tuxedo coat gets dyed yellow.

Senior Class Play

The seniors chose as their class play, "The Whiteheaded Boy" by Lennox Robinson. It dealt with the sacrifices made by an Irish family for their spoiled youngest son. The illogical, absurd, scheming and lovable mother, Mrs. Geohegan, was played by Lou Ann Epperson and her petted son, Dennis, who was given too many sweets one day and blamed and bullied and slapped the next was Robert Marquardt.

Dick Jenks was the oldest son, George, who had the responsibility of the entire family on his shoulder ever since his father's death. Kate, the spinster daughter, and a great help to her mother was Betty Schaitel. Jeannine Schultz as her sister Jane still had hope of marrying her persistent and steady suitor Donough Brosnan (John Curry) who had been courtin' her nigh unto five years.

Lynn Powers as Peter planned to go into his aunt's co-operative and Dorothy Martin as Baby wanted to go up to Dublin to study stenography. All of the families plans are subject to the requirements (in his mother's eyes) of the needs of "The Whiteheaded Boy." Dehlia, played by Mary Weiske, was the fiancée of the latter and her father, Mr. Duffy, who owns half of the village was played by Jack Troyer. Aunt Ellen who was always having some new scheme was played by Portia Bohn.

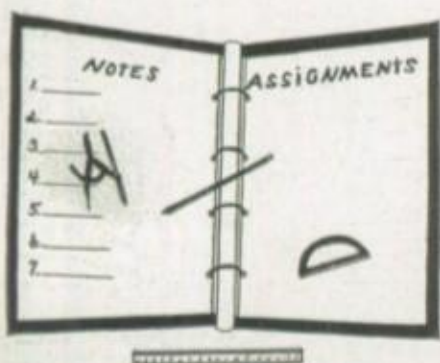

Mr. Duffy's and Aunt Ellen's battle of wits adds much to the humor of the play. Hannah, the maid, who had been a servant in every house in the village at one time or another was Karla Ochsner. The entire play was done in Irish dialect which served as both a source of amusement and humor for the entire cast. The play was directed by Miss Ethel Crandall.

Thalia-Ag Plays

The Thalia and F.F.A. groups again sponsored a playwriting contest. Three plays were selected and produced: "Murder Is the End," by Clairebell Prothero, won first place; second place was "Ruth Always Hurts," written by Kay Nolte, and Karla Ochsner's play, "A Gossip in Dreamland." These three plays and one non-original Chinese play were given in the auditorium March 6 and 7.

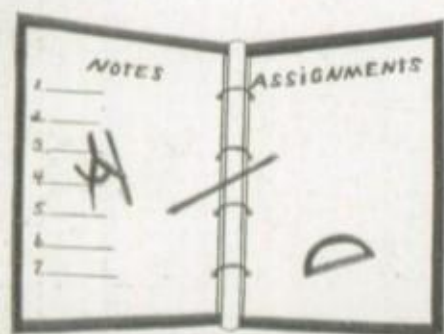

"Murder Is the End," was a melodrama showing the development of murder, from the time the thought entered the mind of the killer, until the actual crime was committed.

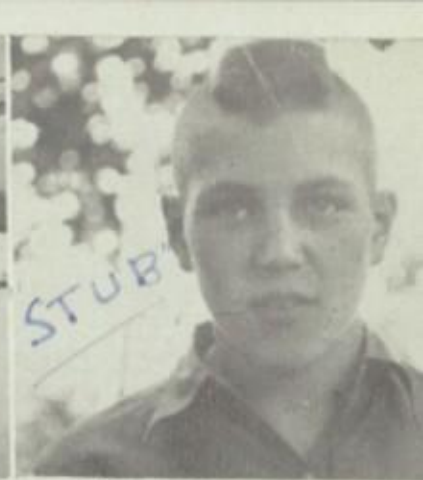

The comedy, "Ruth Always Hurts," involved teen-agers and the endeavor of one particular bobby-soxer to pierce the shell of her over-studious boyfriend.

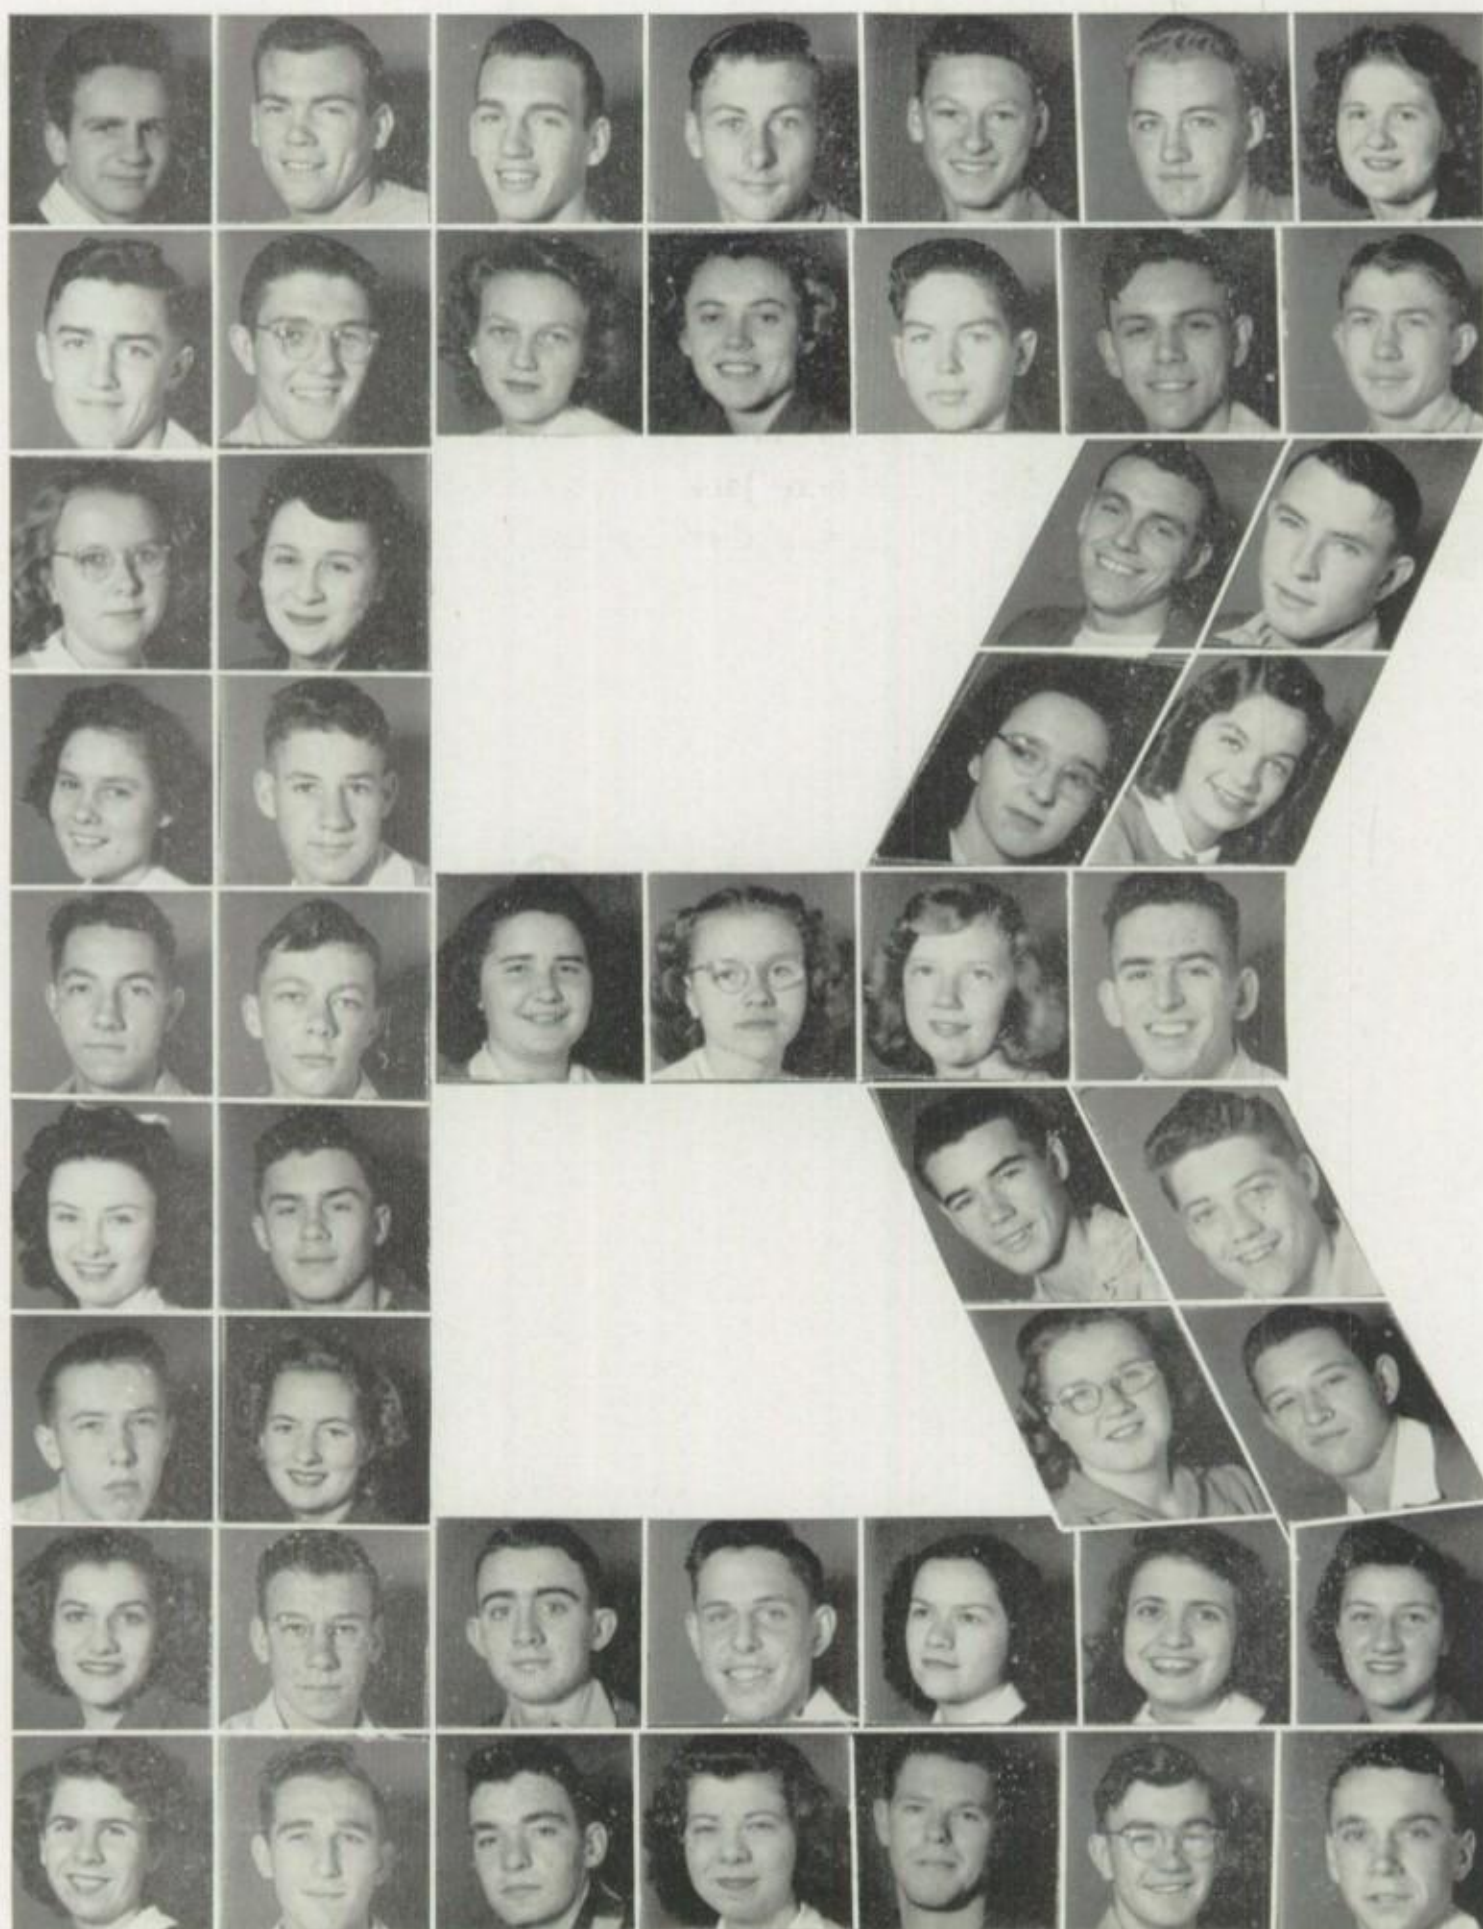

The third place winner, "A Gossip in Dreamland," was a farce. It concerned two maids and their gossiping friends, who dreamed up a fortune for themselves.

"As the Petals Fall," by Ho Go Go, was a pantomime with words, straight from the Chinese theater.

These plays were under the direction of Miss Crandall. Authors of the original plays and their assistants also helped to direct.

Those who do not choose to fight, retreat to first floor shivering as they think of the sub-zero temperatures which prevail in that corridor during the winter.

13th. Bob "Seeds" Luce gains immortality along with other melon-heads in history, as police interrupt watermelon party on local athletic field.

20th. Marilyn Nelson wins Adams-Friendship game practically single-handed as she inspires Rich Bartholomew to the tune of thirteen points.

23rd. Gerp Stone successfully completes operation Na_2Co_3 by joining chemistry and physics room in one blast.

OCTOBER

4th. Frank "Astaire" Calloway invades Barateen to entertain coke room clutch, pay table Philosophers and cardroom cronies, by exhibiting his breathtaking boogie. (Paid advertising; free lessons in ballroom dancing. Etchings also shown.)

14th. School barricades itself for the return of Miss Crandall. She is now on third floor, in room 50, Baraboo High School's cold storage room. Temperature has risen considerably.

*Homecoming day was drawing nigh—
And for that cause we were willing to die.
Even Portia in her own big way—
Worked on a float for that great day.
But, oh my! the dummy wasn't made—
So to Blake's house she went for aid.
Remove yourselves! Hurry! Duck!
Here she comes in Ralph's ice truck!
But Portia's labors were all in vain
For that float was one big pain!*

24th. Mr. Jones joyous as 36 people report for Debate. 349 Baraboo high students help police force to capture criminal by revealing the dark recesses of Baraboo's waterfront.

NOVEMBER

1st. Steamed windows prove obstruction to Dick Jenks as he removes post from Bar-B-Que entrance. Radiator also boiling.

6th-7th. Teachers lost in weekend at Milwaukee. Mr. Jones handcuffs the remaining 25 members of Debate so they cannot escape while he is absent from the city.

11th. Prices for souvenirs run high as Portage students attempt to carry off cannon from courthouse square, contributions are still being accepted by Baraboo boys who were forced to hire Mr. Tarnutzer and his truck to move it back.

*29th. Mary and Lard went out on a lark—
And Mr. Kaster caught 'em in the dark.
It really put him in a stew—
When he found Gerp and Bid there, too.*

DECEMBER

6th. Kay Nolte sets Barateen buzzing and blushing with French phrases. "Wee-wee," proves inadequate and club patrons learn to say "No!"

10th. Baraboo high students shout, "Deck the halls!" as they decorate their lockers in true Christmas spirit. Student council having never heard of the song, issues removal orders, and then inspects lockers for contraband mistletoe.

20th. Sixth hour study hall blends voices to send Christmas cheer ringing up and down the halls. Student council would never approve!

23rd. Christmas Vacation! Mr. Jones telephones 20 remaining members of Debate to make sure they're still with him.

JANUARY

1st. It is customary to mention something about New Year's Eve but since no one could be found who remembered what happened, this date will be excluded.

*Jan. 10th. Dick Raabe bought a Hi-Y pin
A sweetheart one at that!
Twas meant for Hauge sure as sin.
He sold it! (the big fat rat).*

Jan. 13th. Mr. Jones explains importance of good appearance in debate contest, to remaining members. Department stores mobbed as girls invest in black slit skirts.

*Jan. 30. Wind blow— Much snow—
School, oh! No go!*

FEBRUARY

1st. Six remaining members of debate joyous as team places third in district meet.

7th. Hi-Y boys frustrated as postponement of sleighride forces them to dance.

13th. A "red letter day" for Jackie Hill.

24th. School waits breathlessly as Warren Trager gets study hall pass from Mrs. Wolfe and asks Muggs Kane to be Prom Queen.

MARCH

6th - 7th. Thalia Ag Plays prove great fun and great expense. List of production costs included the following items:

7 cases of high blood pressure—stage crew.
(Miss Crandall decided to repaint set 24 hours before production).

5 large bags of peanuts — "As the Petals Fall". (Only 1 bag used. Four consumed by production staff).

12 yards strong rope—make-up crew.
(Used to tie Arden Gaffney down while applying make up).

17th. Mr. Smith hears Miss Crandall bouncing down stairs and rushes to the second floor. Finding her daintily posing in a heap on the floor muttering "out, out, brief candle," he realizes the dramatic possibilities of the situation and retires to his room to speak to the class on "Poor Stairways," the 42nd lecture in his series entitled "What is wrong with Baraboo High School."

21st. Speech class intellectuals invade West High School in Madison for series of plays entitled "Athens to Broadway." As the bus speeded homeward at the rate of 2 miles per hour, members set endurance record by finishing 99 verses of "Coke on the Wall."

APRIL

1st. Ha, Ha, Ha, Joke! Joke! Joke!
Anything to get my goat,
One lowdown caniving rat
Took my chair from where I sat.
"Darn the guys," I thought as I lay,
"Who ever invented this horrible day."

6th. Baraboo Bells had spirits dampened and hats saturated when Easter weather prevailed.

7th. Phone strike does not cramp Gene Weston's style and when he explained the urgency of his emergency to sympathetic strikers they permitted him to call Carol and rededicate his devotion each day. Other B.H.S. romances wither and wilt under stress of not being able to bill and coo for an hour each evening on Mr. Bell's marvelous invention.

18th. Months of waiting till prom arrived,
While every girl a scheme contrived
To snare a date with club and gun.
Oh, how the sophomore boys did run!

Students got up on that great day
To find the weather cold and grey,
Girls looked out the window in despair
And sadly reached for long underwear.

How in bobby pins—no make-up on face
Each girl that morning was a hopeless case.
Nail polish, lipstick, oh what a stew
They finally came out shiny and new.

"The prom was swell, I wish there were more,"

They thought, sneaking in at twenty to 3,
"The gym was just right," all did agree,
"Now what did mom do with the confounded key?"

MAY

2nd - 3rd. (Band Tournament). Three-fourths of Baraboo contestants in music festival go to State Tournament as Miss Haslanger and Mr. Solum combat battle fatigue, and cheer madly.

27th, 28th, 29th. (Senior Exams). At the beginning of the second semester, seniors joyfully threw their books out the window. Now they may be seen grubbing around the grounds looking for those lost pages of that Chemistry book to bone up for Mr. Griffey's final effort to flunk the other twenty-five per cent of his pupils.

Remember the fun
 we used to have in glee club last year. About that time I lived and breathed for J. M. and Plymouths but not any more. At least not as much. Any way best of luck to a sweet kid and don't forget to come up to Lakeland some time
 Best wishes
